DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a process of making an optical filter, classified in class 204, subclass 192.1.
- II. Claims 11-15, drawn to an optical filter, classified in class 359, subclass 580.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process of making the filter disclosed in Group I is layer growth, but coating layers, vaporization deposition and ion-assisted deposition may also create optical filters.

If applicant elects Group I (claims 1-10) the applicant is further required to elect between the following groups of claims.

- A. Claim 1, drawn to a specific method of growth and testing of a silicon layer in an optical filter, classified in class 204 subclass 192.23

Art Unit: 2872

B. Claims 2-10, drawn to a general method of growth and testing of a high index layer in an optical filter, classified in class 204 subclass 192.1

Inventions B and A are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because any high index material may be used to create the layer not just silicon. The subcombination has separate utility such as testing layer growth techniques to minimize internal stresses in the creation of thin layers.

If applicant elects Group II (claims 11-15) the applicant is further required to elect one of the following groups of claims.

C. Claims 11-14, drawn to an optical filter with a high index layer, classified in class 359 subclass 580

D. Claim 15, drawn to an optical filter with means to monitor layer growth, classified in class 359 subclass 582

Inventions C and D are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require that the high index layer be grown or that growth monitored. The subcombination has separate utility such as an optical filter that has a controllable refractive index.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Daniel Thomson on March 28, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Art Unit: 2872

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
